New Haven, Conn.

Dear Ken, Mike, and Jack:

On February 22 I wrote an acknowledgement of your letter suggesting that WYBC take over WCSR for a Friday evening, and suggested that you come to Smith March 18. As we have not heard from you I wondered if my letter could have mislayed, and we do hope you can come the 18th, will you please let us know your plans as soon as possible.
and as we are hopeful but unsure of your coming the 18th, would you please let me know your plans as soon as possible. Your description of the shows is good, and you are welcome to as much as the time between 7 and 11 o'clock Friday night as you would like.

It still stands that the club members will be on hand to welcome (and we have added some new members) and we are looking forward to your visit.

Sincerely,

England. A week later the UWF sent delegates to Luxembourg where representatives from twenty-one nations met in the Second Congress of The World Movement for World Federal Government. Citizens from the U.S., Britain, Germany, Italy, Sweden, Denmark, Turkey, China, India, and others discussed plans for such a governemnt.

With these large scale conferences and meetings, it is easy to lose sight of what an individual can do in this drive for world peace. In the international field of their activities, the Smith Chapter of the UWF has direct contact with a branch of the UWF in Belgium. They have sent a Care package to a federalist group in Europe. In Fedruarry they will mail general textbooks to Germany, where the need for education makes federalism difficult.

Above all, the Smith Chapter, as all other UWF Chapters, is trying to make people internationally minded, trying to show that any successful world government can be achieved only through the support and the understanding of the citizens of all nations.

Notice: The UWF Study Group will be organized after Christmas vacation. Miss Kenyon of the Government Department will give two background lectures on world federalism. If you are interested in joining, contact Binda Payson in Hopkins A. The study kit costs $1.50 and is a very excellent collection of literature.

also want to help and [illegible] them.

What these German students of today seem to need badly is contact with the outside world. If they can get the feeling that there are people who care about them, who are interested in them, they may become less pessimistic about their futures and the future of Germany. If literature were sent to them...if letters were sent from one country to another, establishing close contact between individual students in Germany and elsewhere, the misery and hardships and lack of hope might be replaced by courage and a will to learn and a faith in the future.

business and finance, and the possibility of individual chapters providing speakers were discussed. Of particular interest were summer institutes, sponsored by the UWF, which provide an excellent opportunity to learn politics, government and the background of World Federalism.

Arthur Hostage, Director of the Connecticut State Branch of the UWF, gave the closing address. Cooperation is a vital part of the program carried on by the UWF student groups, and conferences are the most satisfactory means of exchanging ideas and arranging work projects. There will be a conference at Columbia on December 18, and another at Syracuse University on January 15-16. If anyone is interested in attending either of these meetings they may obtain further information by contacting Binda Payson in Hopkins A.
